Solitude Raises $55,000 for The Heuga Center

Fun and Funds at Solitude's Annual Charity Fundraiser

SOLITUDE, UTAH (March 13, 2006) On Sunday, March 12, Solitude Mountain Resort, in cooperation with The Heuga Center and a number of volunteers hosted a successful charity fundraiser for the eleventh year running.

Amidst freshly fallen snow, twelve three-person teams competed in scavenger hunts and ski races to compete for prizes and bragging rights. Seven of the teams were new to the event this year—a testament to the skiing community's desire to show support to this noble cause.

In order to compete, the teams must have raised a minimum of $1,000 for The Heuga Center previous to the actual event. The winning team (Powder Puff Girls), comprised of Katrina Jensen, Andrea White, and Safia Keller raised a whopping $10,000 to be given to The Heuga Center and its programs for victims of MS and their families.

Says Jay Burke, Director of Marketing and PR for Solitude Mountain Resort, "Solitude is absolutely thrilled to host this event each year. We've raised over $675,000 to date, and hope to continue raising critical funds for The Heuga Center for many years to come."

The Heuga Center is a national, non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of people and families living with MS through its interactive, educational programs unique to any in the world. The Center's programs range from one to five days and are held throughout the U.S. and Canada up to 60 times per year. Programs take an interdisciplinary "can do" approach to teaching tools and strategies to the entire family so that they may live the fullest life possible.

Solitude Mountain Resort, a year-round, family-friendly destination, receives more than 500 inches of the Greatest Snow on Earth™ every year and is located just 40 minutes from the Salt Lake City International Airport.
