

If you only knew...

Release at Will

A VILLAGE RETREAT

Solitude Mountain Resort Makes it Easy to Stay in the Village With a Special Early Season Lodging Special and Secure Online Booking

SOLITUDE, UTAH (September 2005) European charm has never been more accessible. Last year, Solitude celebrated the completion of its village core—a project nearly a decade in the making—bringing the Old World to the Wasatch Mountains and burying it in more than 42 feet of the Greatest Snow on Earth™. Europe never had it so good.

Now, it's even easier to enjoy all of the comforts of the village with online booking for Solitude Lodging Condominiums and The Inn at Solitude. Plus, there are spectacular Early Season Lodging Specials to take advantage of.

Solitude's destination visitors have more than 150 mountainside units to choose from, ranging from intimate, Bavarian-styled hotel rooms, to spacious, luxuriously-appointed town homes. Amenities include kitchens and kitchenettes, year-round heated pools and hot tubs, gourmet dining at St. Bernard's and the Creekside Restaurant, bodywork at the Essentials Spa, fitness centers, game rooms and private decks. All six of the village's lodges—the Inn at Solitude, Eagle Springs East, Eagle Springs West, Creekside, Powderhorn Lodge and The Crossings—offer a sense of escape, luxury and sanctuary.

Dining in the village is always a special treat. Executive Chef Lane Pellingier has crafted two exquisite menus to complement the beauty and intimacy of both St. Bernard's and Creekside Restaurants. St. Bernard's, a winner of a Wine Spectator award, offers fine country French cuisine in a warm, fire-side setting. Creekside is known for its rustic Italian dishes, ranging from the baked polenta specialty and wood-fired pizzas, to the finest meatloaf in the Wasatch, with plenty more family-friendly favorites as well. For the more adventurous village guest, the Yurt sits just a snowshoe or Nordic ski away in the Wasatch-Cache National Forest, where guests enjoy a five-course dinner inside a cozy, Mongolian yurt.

Those looking for an early season fix will be delighted to find two value season lodging specials. Guests can lock in a rate for The Inn at just $112 pp/do per night. The price includes an adult lift ticket and room, and must be booked for two or more nights during our value seasons. If you are looking for a condominium, book 4 nights or more in any unit and we will throw in a fifth night absolutely FREE. This offer is only available during our value seasons and cannot be applied to existing reservations. Reserving space in the beautiful Solitude village is so effortless, as Solitude offers secure online booking at www.skisolitude.com/lodging for the condominiums or www.skisolitude.com/inn for The Inn at Solitude. Reservations and information are also available by calling (800).748.4754.

Everything about the village at Solitude is family-friendly and inviting. With the village coming alive in spirit and fun, families will find the winter holidays to be the ideal time to visit Solitude. Each night between Christmas and New Year's, live entertainment including storytelling, music, and more is available for the children; as well as snow tubing on Main Street; plenty of family dinner options; and of course, Solitude's traditional Kid's Mini-Glow Parade and its big brother, the Torchlight Parade, featuring Solitude staff members skiing and riding towards the village and lighting the New Year's Eve twilight. The village's quaint ice skating rink and warming fire make for an excellent way to spend an evening with the children, all season long.

Families will appreciate the absence of all-night bars and shopping malls at Solitude. It's the mountain where fresh tracks still linger after lunch, snow angel-making is a regular occurrence and parents can plan to meet their kids at the end of the day without worrying what might happen in the meantime.

Solitude Mountain Resort, a year-round, family-friendly destination, receives more than 500 inches of the Greatest Snow on Earth™ every year and is located just 40 minutes from the Salt Lake City International Airport.

###

Jay Burke Director of Mktg/Media Relations
Phone: 801-536-5703 email: jay@skisolitude.com

